

Perishables

June 2004

Special Shipments

At Emirates SkyCargo, particular attention is paid to those consignments requiring special handling - extending from fresh food stuff to flowers, fruit and vegetables irrespective of any season.

High degree of skill and careful handling

The successful transportation of perishables takes a high degree of skill, careful handling, meticulous organisation and sophisticated systems, facilities and equipment. Our passenger fleet offers cargo capacities varying from 10,000kgs to 25,000kgs, and hold volumes from 60m<sup>3</sup> to 210m<sup>3</sup>), whilst the Boeing 747-400F offers a payload capability of up to 120 tons.

Our convenient and reliable services

Emirates SkyCargo offers all the convenience and reliability of regular, high-frequency, scheduled services, covering more than 75 destinations in Australia, Asia, the Far East, Africa, the Middle East, Europe and America - and many hundreds of others through our carefully chosen interline partners.

A fresh approach to caring for fresh produce

Consumers around the world have become accustomed to being able to buy high quality fruit, vegetables, meat and other produce irrespective of season. In turn, growers and suppliers demand the advanced logistical services that ensure their produce arrives on time and in peak condition - which is why more and more are turning to Emirates SkyCargo.

Well equipped fleet

Our Boeing 747F has four independently controlled air-conditioned zones, each of which can be maintained at any temperature between 4 and 290C. On other Emirates aircrafts special temperature controlled containers are also available to ensure that your temperature critical goods are stored in ideal conditions.

Sophisticated systems and facilities

Service in the air is matched on the ground. At our Dubai hub there are extensive facilities to meet a wide variety of storage - although, with some 90 per cent of consignments delivered within two hours of arrival, few shipments stay there for long. Transfers are rapid too - we can have your shipment aboard its connecting flight within 60 minutes. Extending Emirates SkyCargo's high standards of care and reliability is our range of road feeder services, providing seamless service from regional off-line points to our main hubs.
